Reports, IV.

University President’s Report, IV.A.
President Arévalo reported that much of his focus since the last board meeting has been on creating greater visibility for the institution. As a panelist, he attended a regional conference for the National Association of Educational Opportunity Programs (NAEOP) to advocate for students from disadvantaged backgrounds and to discuss legislative issues relating to Hispanic students in the educational system in the state of Washington. He also attended the National Council for the American Association of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU) conference where the national education agenda was discussed. In addition, he participates on a committee that develops and mentors leaders who aspire to be university presidents. President Arévalo mentioned other activities such as the Civics Conference on the Cheney Campus, where he introduced the keynote speaker, State Supreme Court Justice Debra Stephens. The purpose of this conference was to increase civic engagement within the community. Dr. Arevalo also reported that he has accepted the position of Treasurer to Visit Spokane, in addition to his current role as board member.

Dr. Arévalo also reported on his trip to Brazil. He was asked to be part of a study group to see how institutions of higher education (who are part of AASCU) can begin to develop partnerships with universities in Brazil’s largest state, Pernambuco. It is the fastest growing state and has educational resources for study abroad activities. Brazil is very interested in increasing English literacy within their country. They also have a high interest in the STEM fields, something we do well here at EWU. There were a number of natural connections with the 12 institutions visited on the brief tour.

President Arévalo was also pleased to report that EWU has been selected to host the National Conference on Undergraduate Research (NCUR) in 2015. He thanked Dr. Fuller’s team for their accomplishment. See Dr. Arévalo’s full written report provided to the Board.

Chair Tanaka thanked Past Chair Bertha Ortega for her two years’ service as Chair of the Board and acknowledged her hard work alongside the president. Trustee Ortega acknowledged President Arévalo and EWU administrators, thanking them also for their many contributions.
