UNDERGRADUATE PROGRAMS

The Interdisciplinary Children's Studies majors provide students a strong holistic background in the study of children (birth to adolescence) in a variety of social contexts. Theory and practice from the disciplines of Sociology, Psychology and Education form the basis for this integrated curriculum. The BA Options A, B, and C provide an opportunity for all students to develop a foundational and global perspective of children and childhood. Included in the program requirements is the course SOCI 101, which must be taken as a prerequisite to the sociology courses found within the Children’s Studies Major. This course may be used to fulfill the requirements for one General Education Course Requirement (GECR) but may not be counted twice toward the 180 credits required to graduate. In addition, EDUC 325, which makes up part of the Children's Studies core, may be used to fulfill the requirement for the Culture and Gender Diversity requirement.

BACHELOR OF ARTS (BA)

Student Learning Outcomes—students will:

- demonstrate knowledge in addressing children's lives and experiences from a variety of disciplines;
- demonstrate an understanding of children’s diversity;
- critically evaluate a variety of approaches in working with children and reflect on their own practices and interactions with children;
- design curricula that addresses children’s individuality in different types of interactions and contexts;
- demonstrate effective practices in working with children and child service organizations, which include knowledge of content area, problem solving, use of technology, opportunity for choice, motivation, collaboration, and respect for diversity;
- communicate effectively with all constituencies, including children, parents, colleagues, and community members; and demonstrate professional leadership in the field.

Children's Studies Courses

Terms offered: check with the department or EagleNET.

CDST 301 Introduction to Children's Studies (2)
Students will be introduced to the history of Children's Studies and the guiding framework or philosophy. They will also have the opportunity to learn how to develop a professional growth plan and to construct and assess their knowledge through the development of portfolios.

CDST 330 Research Methods for Studying Children and Childhood (4)
This course introduces students to research that helps us understand children's lives and experiences. The course examines core research methods, multicultural philosophies and ethical considerations given the power dynamics between adult researchers and child subjects. Students become familiar with scientific methods as applied in research with children, including methods for data collection and skills in analytic techniques.

CDST 439 Topics in Children's Studies (5)
Note: may be repeated for credit, providing the title is different.
This variable topic class explores current issues and interests in the field of children's studies. Topics might include children's studies perspectives on contemporary issues, current research issues of specific faculty or deeper investigation of topics covered in core courses. Topics or issues that might be covered in this course range from play to children's activism.

CDST 490 Senior Capstone: Children's Studies (4)
Prerequisite: senior standing or approval of instructor.
Satisfies: senior capstone university graduation requirement.
This course is designed to move from basic understandings of children's studies and the multiple disciplines from which it emerges to an integrated and unified interdisciplinary understanding. Integration of learning will be facilitated through service learning or community-based research projects in collaboration with local organizations that address children's issues.

CDST 492 Children's Studies Senior Portfolio (2)
Prerequisite: senior standing or approval of instructor.
Building on the portfolio process, students will develop and present an exit portfolio. This process will include identifying personal and career objectives; discussing content; developing themes; choosing formats; and revising personal statements, narrative and résumés. Exit portfolios will be used for program assessment.

CDST 495 Children's Studies Internship (1–10)
Prerequisite: senior standing or approval of instructor.
Students receive academic credit for internships supervised within organizations working with or for children. The internship is initiated by the student and facilitated by their academic advisor, their site supervisor and the Career Services Internship Office. Students complete a Learning Contract, which outlines expectations, roles and responsibilities, as well as the process of documentation and evaluation.
