PROGRAM INFORMATION

Students who have earned a bachelor's degree or higher from an accredited institution may apply for non-degree-seeking (non-matriculated) graduate enrollment. The requirements for enrollment are as follows:

- Submit a graduate non-matriculated application to the Graduate Programs Office with the non-refundable fee.
- Provide an unofficial or official transcript showing at least a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution.

Please note the following:

- Enrollment is restricted to 500-level courses or below, subject to both program and instructor approval.
- Enrollment is subject to any course or program prerequisites.
- Non-matriculated students are eligible to enroll for up to one year (renewable) and are not eligible for financial aid.
- Non-degree-seeking graduate students pay graduate tuition.
- Non-matriculated status is not available to anyone holding an F-1 visa, nor will non-degree-seeking international applicants be issued an I-20.
- Non-degree-seeking graduate status is intended for students who do not wish to pursue a graduate degree or certificate; it is not to be used for provisional enrollment by those seeking regular admission to graduate studies.

Students may apply at any time for regular graduate admission by completing the online graduate admission application, submitting complete credentials and meeting any program-specific application requirements. The policies allowing a maximum of 12 pre-admission credits to be used in a graduate program and a maximum of six years to complete a graduate degree apply to any credits earned before formal admission to a graduate degree program. Enrollment as a graduate non-matriculated student does not guarantee subsequent admission to graduate studies. Anyone seeking undergraduate non-degree enrollment must apply separately through the EWU Admissions Office.
